AIUB Delegation Represents Bangladesh at AIFOD Geneva Summit 2026, United Nations Office at Geneva

Wednesday-Friday, August 12-14, 2026

The AIFOD Geneva Summit 2026, held 12-14 August at the UN Office at Geneva, under the theme “Small Takes the Lead,” brought together 900+ leaders from 142+ nations to advance AI sovereignty. AIUB was represented by Dr. Carmen Z. Lamagna, Board Member and Former Vice Chancellor, and Professor Dr. Dip Nandi, Dean, Faculty of Science and Technology.

Dr. Lamagna was interviewed on Bangladesh’s AI path and AIUB’s transformation, highlighting its AI

Supercomputing Lab and Cyber Security and Digital Forensics Laboratory. Prof. Nandi chaired Dialogue XIII, “Can Specialized AI Beat General AI?”, with a five-member international panel.

The delegation conferred Honorary Professor of Practice on Minister E.P. Chet Greene, Antigua and Barbuda, and presented a plaque to AIFOD founders Tianze Zhang and Velynne Ji, before returning to Dhaka to build on these connections.

Dr. Carmen Z. Lamagna Interviewed on AI Transformation Leadership at AIFOD Geneva Summit, Switzerland 2026

Wednesday-Friday, August 12-14, 2026

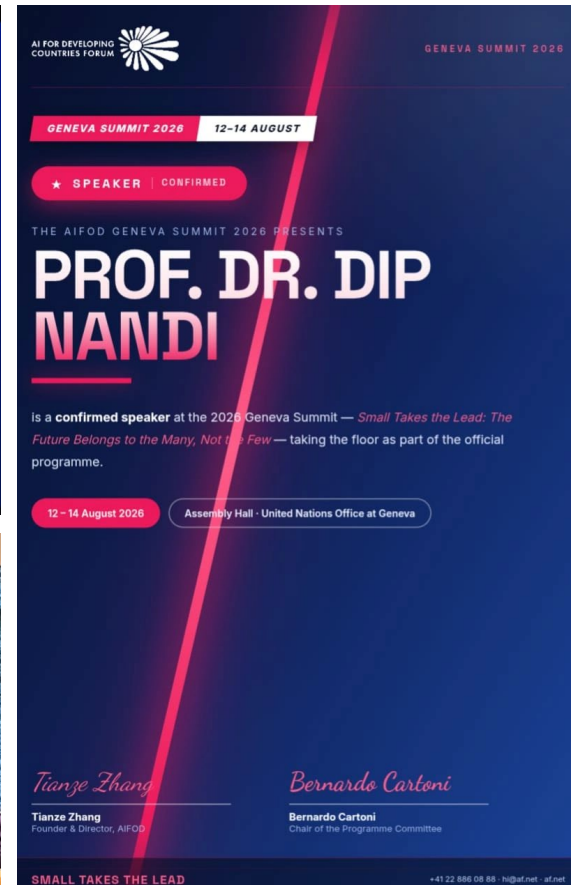

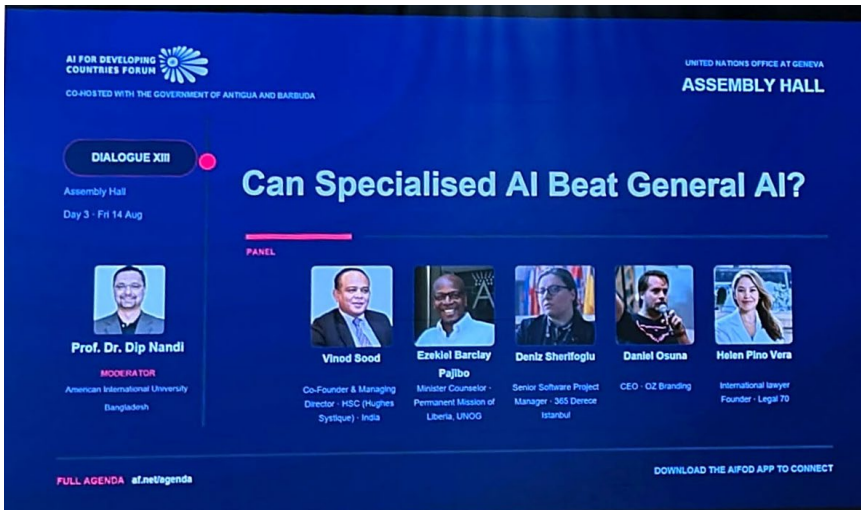

At the AIFOD Geneva Summit 2026, held 12-14 August under the theme “Small Takes the Lead,” Dr. Carmen Z. Lamagna, Board Member and Former Vice Chancellor, AIUB, was interviewed on lessons for Bangladesh and AIUB’s AI transformation journey.

On Bangladesh’s path, Dr. Lamagna emphasized urgency and possibility, prioritizing local capacity-building over infrastructure, and stronger collaboration between government, industry, and academia, with universities modeling responsible AI adoption.

On AIUB’s own journey, she traced its growth from 50 to over 15,000 students through staying close to industry needs, highlighting early, inclusive leadership and investment in faculty training. She noted AIUB’s AI Supercomputing Lab, with 40 NVIDIA DGX Spark systems, and its Cyber Security and Digital Forensics Laboratory as key research infrastructure supporting AI development and application.

Dean of FST, AIUB Serves as Session Chair at AIFOD Geneva Summit 2026, Switzerland: “Can Specialized AI Beat General AI?”

Wednesday-Friday, August 12-14, 2026

On the closing day of the AIFOD Geneva Summit 2026, held 12-14 August under the theme “Small Takes the Lead,” Prof. Dr. Dip Nandi, Dean, Faculty of Science and Technology, AIUB, chaired Dialogue XIII, “Can Specialized AI Beat General AI?,” on 14 August 2026, one of 16 dialogues engaging 900+ leaders from 142+ nations.

Prof. Dr. Nandi framed the debate between general-purpose and domain-specific AI models, citing cost, accuracy, and linguistic sovereignty concerns. The five-member panel—Vinod Sood, HSC (Hughes Systique), India; Ezekiel Barclay Pajibo, Permanent Mission of Liberia; Deniz Sherifoglu, 365 Derece, Türkiye; Daniel Osuna, OZ Branding, Mexico; and Helen Pino Vera, legal70, Spain—discussed model architecture, national requirements, accessibility, and inclusion.

Closing, Prof. Dr. Nandi argued specialized AI should serve as the “operational frontline,” with general intelligence as “supportive, connective tissue,” reflecting AIUB’s engagement in shaping global AI sovereignty conversations.

AIUB Confers Honorary Professor of Practice on Minister Hon. E.P. Chet Greene at AIFOD Geneva Summit 2026, Switzerland

Wednesday-Friday, August 12-14, 2026

At the AIFOD Geneva Summit 2026, held 12-14 August at the UN Office at Geneva, under the theme “Small Takes the Lead,” AIUB conferred the Honorary Professor of Practice title on Honorable Minister E.P.
